Dear Mr. McSherry,

I am amazed at the proposal due to the present state of the economy. We are a manufacturing firm competing in a very competitive industry which has direct involvement with Agriculture. As u might have seen the agricultural & farming communities are on their knees due to imports coming from a cheaper competitive base.

Currently the margins in our industry are at an historic low level, the introduction of this proposed PSO levy with be catastrophic for our business and would definitely result in job losses for our company.

We cannot understand in light of the drop in demand for electricity in Ireland, and the coming on line of both Aghada and White gate that we continue to subsidise the old inefficient plants on the grid.

We strongly resist any introduction of this proposed charge at what ever rate.

Are the Irish Government and its agents serious about jobs within the manufacturing sector of this island, because we have to remain competitive if not we will close down?

If we close, you then will have no more customers to rip off!!!!

Regards,

Bobby Roche.
