

Sent: 10 August 2013 21:51

To: John Melvin

Subject: how more elderly Irish people need to die this winter?

To John Melvin,

I am currently a customer of Bord Gais but after this announcement I will be moving like the other 39% of customers moving to another supplier even if by some miracle this price hike is not approved. I am so tired of Bord Gais and their greed.

- How many more elderly people need to die this winter as they cannot afford to cook or heat their homes?
- How many people already struggling to pay back their negative equity mortgages need to go to money lenders to cover their Gas bills?
- How many more men in Ireland will commit suicide due to depression linked to money issues?

Please stand up and help the people of Ireland by not agreeing to this price hike.

Thanks in advance,
Bridget Beirne